

Mechanopolis

Chorus: Welcome to Mechanopolis

Fuck what you need, we've got just what you want

Welcome to Mechanopolis

Live to work and work til you die

Life is so hard let us just make it easier

All it takes is collective amnesia

You don't have to think, we've already thought for you

We can help organize, use, keep, and store you

Mechanopolis, perfect society

Sanitized to conform to with propriety

All accessible, down to the decimal

Flat screen, bright lights, electronic festivals

Set to tantalize, help you fantasize, so you can't decide where the answers hide

We got fun we got game

Cybernetic upgrades in our brains

Forcefields protect us from unknown fear

In Mechanopolis biosphere

We set the temperature, we control the weather

Artificial lifestyle safer and better

Teleport transit, you don't have to walk

LCD implant you don't have to talk

REM surgery you don't have to sleep

Nutritional supplements, not time to eat

Chorus

First pay us money, so you can breathe
Nine months after your soul was conceived
Next give us money so you can gain skills
So you can make money buy things and pay bills
Then give us money so you can buy pills
And we can help rid you of terrible ills
Caused by our factories, sweatshops and mills
Your life is for spending in pleasure and thrills

Chorus
